Why Idiots Laugh.

"Well, you seem to have nice times here!" I remarked to one grinning idiot in the Insane Asylum.
"Ye-ye-ye! Ha ha ha!—why of course we have—ha, ha—nothing to do—ho, ho, ho—nothing to pay for rent—ho, ho—clothes—ha, ha, ha—no victuals—ha, he, he—how can a fellow help laughing—ha, ha, ha!"
"You have no work to do, then?"
"Work! do you think we'd be such fools as to show any talent for work? They'd make us work then, and if we showed signs of reason turn us out of house and home, to starve with the rest. There's no use in being an idiot unless you're a big idiot. Say, you come and be an idiot with us. It pays. Pay as much as you like, folks to wait on us, and grin and bear it all day. The real idiots, you know, are all outside these walls."
Here came another idiot. He grinned and said:
"I am Plato and my philosophy is practical. I am an idiot because it pays."
"Pays in what?"
"Easy times, no work, clothes, food and drink. Do you get any more?"
"Not much."
"And you work for what you get, don't you?"
"Yes."
"Well, I don't you see! You work for me, though. You are one of my servants. You are taxed to support me. Isn't it funny, eh?"
"It may be to you."
"It is! Funny! It keeps me on the broad grin all day. That's why we stand and grin so at each other. We've got the best of you fellows outside. I ran away one day and saw all the people working for me outside. Working with all their might, and some of them on half feed; working in close and crowded factories; digging, lifting, tugging, sweating, staining and praying for six o'clock to come. I saw them roused out of bed at five o'clock of cold mornings, tired, stiff and chilly, girls and boys, men and women, all to be harnessed to the old treadmill again. You see I'd got a little tired of being an idiot, but when I saw that, and tried begging a day or two, I just went back to the old asylum, and gave myself up again. Didn't I laugh, though, when I got inside?"
"And that's why you laugh?"
"Yes; that's why we laugh. Sam my Cox tried to explain that, but he never found out. It keeps us on the broad grin all day. Say, come and be an idiot with us; you'd make a first-rate idiot, you look like an idiot now. What's that your business?"

"I—I'm a newspaper man."
"O, you help make idiots' then?"
"What?"
"Help make idiots. Outside idiots, I mean. Tell 'em how it is all right that they should work for nothing and find themselves. No. Don't want you. You're doing good work outside. It's you fellows that help keep the rest boning down to hard work to feed us. Come, boys let's all sit down and grin a while over it."
—Prentice Mulford in Graphic.

HARD TO PLEASE.—A story is told of another failure to marry King Louis of Bavaria. The handsome Prince had gone so far as to allow the photograph of the bride proposed to be sent to him; then he excused himself, pretending that the lady had a low forehead. He declared very frankly to his President of the Council that the sight of a face with such a contour would irritate him excessively. He does not possess the same taste as the ancients, as sung by Horace, and the Greek and Roman statues appear to him insipid from the sheep-like straight line of the nose and the receding brow. In vain was it argued with the patron of Wagner that the most beautiful females of antiquity endeavored to obtain a small forehead by dressing their hair as low as possible, and that now in the East the women bring it almost to their eyebrows, which is considered a mark of beauty; nothing could induce the King to change his resolution. Bavaria will have no Queen, unlike Spain, who is preparing to welcome a new one.

His Chances.

We said yesterday that Bradley would not run for Governor a third time, and we believed our opinion good. We also mentioned other candidates, but omitted one—Brick Palmer, a citizen of the great East. A friend while traveling in that region lately learned of the aspirations of this gentleman, and informed us that he was quite popular in his own section. We have not, however, mentioned him, because, being entirely unknown in other portions of the State, and we do not think he stands a ghost of a show.

We should treat Governor Bradley's aspirations in the same way. He is popular in his own faction of the Democratic party, but unpopular in every other. Hence we should regard it a matter of indifference whether he ran or not, and fail to see the especial object of abusing the very weakest candidate and allowing those who are the probable leaders to escape scot free. The Democrat in this State who believes that Bradley can enjoy a third term, without the use of special issues, is welcome to his belief. And we shall take no pains to disabuse him. The Democrat who believes that any member of his party can become Governor next year, is equally in the wrong, and hence the entire discussion is entirely unprofitable.

The Annual Raid.

Charity Hemingray, the oleaginous representative of two-score soreheads of Salt Lake, has reached Washington and begun the work for which the liberal corruption fund was raised. The first effort of this peacock lawyer are characteristic of him. He seeks the reporter of a New York paper and talks him into sending a "special," in which Hemingray—Judge Joseph C. Hemingray, he has it put—forms the chief element. Knowing the "delegate" as we do, we will dare to assert that he wrote the dispatch, and probably used some of the fund to get it into print.

The people of Utah need have no fear that the ring or its representatives will be successful. Bled the "liberals" as much as they can, spend in Washington all the money they are able to collect, and keep a whole band of delegates at the national capital, and they can not accomplish their base designs against the happiness and prosperity of Utah. Congressmen and the people of the United States have too much respect for the right, and reverence for justice to accede to the unrighteous demands of a clique of impecunious tricksters, who seek to rule in order that they may ruin.—Salt Lake Herald.

This is what the paper in question has to say of the commission which lately reached Washington. The labors of that commission are to be directed against the institution of Polygamy, and it seems that such commissions are considered as "Annual Raids." Now if such is the case there is certainly more reason for an effective raid during the present year. The Herald says that the aim of the commission is against "the happiness and prosperity of Utah," it urges that there are laws in Utah which correct the evils if any exist. The writers also urges a regard for justice as the excuses which Congress is to offer for non interference. The editor of the Herald knows—if his masters permit him to know anything—that laws are inoperative where the spirit of the majority is against them. He knows that this polygamist nest has been maintained by the rule of an absolute monarch, and he ought to know that the customs which he defends are ruinous to the health and morals of any community. He has seen the growth of poisonous doctrines and counted the victims. He has chronicled the growth of a national disgrace, and sees its strength defy ordinary modes of correction. He heard the volley which ended John D. Lee's life, and knew the cause and justification, together with the primal cause which made Lee's crime necessary. He has read of the murders and robberies, perpetrated that Mormonism might thrive, and the polygamists have his will. And yet he argues with much spirit against a possibly effective movement directed against the source of such crimes. The fact that there are men alive who dare make such arguments is a special plea in favor of the sectional legislation which the Herald deprecates.

Box-toed shoes and slippers are desirable.

The Latest From Sacramento.

A special to the Virginia Chronicle of the 17th says: Both Houses are in session. The trains that arrived today were crowded with the friends of the candidates.

Farley's friends claim forty-four votes on the third ballot tonight, if an adjournment is not obtained by the combination against him. McDonald's friends state that thirty-eight votes are sure for him. Hagar's representatives assure a victory when McDonald fails.

Two more of McDonald's delegates from San Francisco have deserted him and will vote for Farley to-night.

All the evidence points to Farley's success. He is managing his own fight.

The air is thick with rumors of money being used, but they cannot be proved.

A Salt Lake paper forsakes a vigorous defense of polygamy in its leading article to reprove the West for using money instead of brains for Senators. The reproach comes rather awkwardly from the land of massacres and incest. We predict that when the discussion of Utah criminals comes before this nation in proper form our mentor above quoted will see more virtues in money than brains as a means of defense.

Senator Gordon is shortly to receive from his friends a solid silver service, richly adorned, &c. A solid civil service will keep Senator Gordon at home in future unless he adopts less of the bullying style and more of the Senatorial.

Jules Ferry the Republican leader in France is threatened with insanity from an excessive use of hair dye. We don't believe that, owing to the fact that a man never dyes his hair unless his brain be already dead.

Senator Lamar's health has suffered from the recent night sessions of Congress. Night sweats are apparently injurious to legislative as well as physical strength.

For the first time in many years, there is an occupant for every seat in the United States Senate, the total number of Senators being seventy-six. The political complexion of the chamber is as follows: Republicans, 39; Democrats, 36; Independent, 1. In fourteen of the States the Senators are both Republicans; in thirteen, they are both Democrats; ten have each a Republican and a Democrat, and one a Republican and an Independent. In 1879 twenty-five new Senators will take their seats.

INDIANS TO BE REPRESENTED IN CONGRESS.—Washington, Dec. 17.—The House Committee on Indian Affairs substantially agreed to report a bill, on the reassembling of Congress, allowing the five Indian tribes in the Indian Territory to be represented by a delegate in the house. The business of Congress relating to the interests of the Indian Territory, in the Sub-Committee, to whom the subject was referred, is such as to make it advisable that the Indian tribes should have official representation.

FARLEY WINS.—Farley was nominated on the seventh ballot. The vote stood: Farley 42, McDonald 18 and Hagar 18.

The balloting commenced to-day at noon, and owing to the Democratic majority in both houses, Farley has no doubt been elected Senator before this. Sargent's mantle will fall upon a very small form, just as Morton's did, only more so. What is your comment on the contest and its result?

An inventive Parisian recently advanced the idea that Marshal MacMahon's obstinacy arose from an over indulgence in absinthe. Mac promptly fined this bright man enough to buy absinthe for a year and sent him to jail to ruminate.

Samuel Carr tried to shoot John Plate in Virginia City on Sunday. John Plate hammered Samuel Carr upon the head with a derring, and foiled his little undertaking.

Professor Gunning.

The course of lectures announced to be given by Professor W. D. Gunning at the Reno Opera House commenced last evening. Owing to the insufficient notice given and the fact that there were two other meetings in the town, his audience was rather small. The Professor, however, took up his subject with the interest which always characterizes the true student and made his subject very interesting to his hearers. So much so, indeed, that they were unanimous in assuring him of their efforts to secure a full house to-night. Professor Gunning lectures in the accepted form—builds up his ground work, lays a sound foundation and proceeds to build thereon the temple of scientific theory—constantly going back to primal facts, and deducing therefrom analogies and theorems which are equally entertaining with the simple truths upon which they rest. The subject for last evening was "Life Before Man," but the lecturer merely aimed at a social scientific talk with his hearers. To-night a partial review of the subject will be made, and then the course continued. Professor Gunning is evidently a thorough scientist, and those who have any desire to freshen or supply their minds with details of the world's history, as written in the book of Nature, should hear him.

It is the intention of Professor Gunning in his forthcoming work upon Geology to make a feature of Nevada's structure, and as there is no locality in the world which is more remarkable, our citizens should certainly be interested in the scientific theories of Nevada's formation. We hope that Professor Gunning will have a good audience to-night, for his subject and manner of treatment amply deserve it.

VERDI REJOICING.—A party was lately given by Mrs. Roberts at her residence known as the old Cox ranch, which is described as par excellence the grandest affair of Verdi's social season. No pains were spared in the preparations for comfort of the inner and outer man. The finest supper which Verdi ever ate, was set out by the hostess, and the music was simply immense. Six or eight couples represented Truckee in the many dance, and so many did it become that three young men thought it was thirteen miles back to Verdi. The party visited Mr. Cox who was lately seriously injured, and found him convalescent. Our correspondent informs us that one young man fell out of the wagon and bruised his leg, but with that exception the affair was a most complete success. Those Verdi people know just how to have a dance.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Mrs. S. A. Shepherd lectured last evening at the Baptist Church against "The Flowing Bowl." Our representative at the church was not favorably impressed with Mrs. Shepherd's mode of attack, and expressed the opinion that the bowl in question was not likely to be abolished as a direct consequence of this lady's work. There seems to be a great abundance of female lecturers in the country, while the number of good mothers and wives have never been in excess of the demand. We do not wish to disparage the cause of temperance in any degree. It is a worthy cause, and should be ably treated; but if we could discourage Mrs. Shepherd from thinking that she is a lecturer, we should be comparatively happy. We can't listen to everybody; and we submit that the best should be patronized.

LYCEUM TO-NIGHT.—The Congressional lyceum holds forth again this evening at the District Court room. The special subject for consideration is the bill introduced by Hoole of South Carolina, asking $500,000 for the improvement of the Truckee river. Hoole's measure contemplates the navigation of the river, and a fine harbor and dry dock at Reno. It is said that in secret conclave the bill has found many friends, and the gentleman from New York will favor in case John Doe is appointed collector according to his wish. The votaries of temperance will favor the dry dock, and the only effective opposition to the measure must come from Carson.

The Creal furnace is nearly completed. The work of drying out progresses finely.

Jettings.

C. S. Varian took the train for Carson this morning. Legal.

Pyramid Lake has not yet reached Reno.

Wm. Merrill of Verdi, was in town yesterday, looking well.

Sandy Crocker, the "cattleist," is at home.

There are ten patients at the County Hospital.

The Christmas ball should be attended by every citizen.

Thirty-eight car loads of fat cattle westward to-day.

Carson valley is the only cold region in this country.

The meat shipping company send two more car-loads tomorrow. They were loaded to-day.

Judge Wright has taken the case of Borden vs Bender and Manning under advisement.

Thomas Condy, the man who had his arm blown off at Pyramid, is out once more.

Go and hear Professor Gunning to-night. The Comstock papers speak highly of his attainments.

Prof. Gunning will probably visit Pyramid and the salt country north-west of that point.

The Creal furnace was warmed Sunday night, and those interested watched the process very closely.

We expected to see many blue ribbons upon the street to-day, but were disappointed. Come, now, if you take the pledge, stand in.

"Gimlet" came up smiling this morning with a blue ribbon aboard. He has never touched anything stronger than mucilage, and does not propose to.

A report comes from Surprise that Localites are afflicted with chilblains, and to-day nine of his lady admirers clubbed together to buy him a mustard plaster.

A Combination for three nights is to be formed between the Richings Bernard troupe and Madame di Murska in Virginia City. On Wednesday evening the show commences.

THE BLUE RIBBON.—G. S. Allen held forth again last evening at the Congregational Church upon the subject of temperance. The church was uncomfortably filled, many being obliged to stand during the lecture. Mr. Allen treated his subject in an inviting way, building upon fragments of anecdote and experience, the truths which everyone admits to be the property of the temperance cause. The choir was absent and the want of music was felt by the lecturer and his audience. To-night the same lecturer will hold forth at the Baptist Church. About twenty-five persons allowed themselves to be decorated last night, resolving to "spit cotton" for an indefinite period. Mr. Allen is a worker and we wish him success.

FIREMEN'S BALL.—The firemen have resolved to have a house and lot of their own, and for that purpose a special committee to-day decided upon a grand ball to be given on Christmas night. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of a lot. We commend this undertaking to our citizens for especial aid. An efficient fire department can not be over-estimated, and it should have ground and buildings sufficient for its accommodation. A few good citizens have undertaken the work, and they should find many willing helpers. Messrs. Bragg, Kelly and Hoole are the Committee of Arrangements, and we expect confidently that the ball will be a complete success. The advertisement comes too late for insertion to-day.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING.—Santa Claus has determined to pay more attention to the ladies than has been his custom and directs them to Miss Seltier's millinery establishment, opposite Nathan's. Hats, feathers, ribbons, &c., &c. Stamping and embroidery to order in the best style of the art. Miss Seltier evidently understands the holiday trade, and ladies should consult her taste.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS.—A friend yesterday concluded to sell his property, and upon consulting the record found a cloud upon his title through the negligence of his agent employed to do the work. Considering the fact that this was a legal agent, we consider the mistake entirely inexcusable.

FIREMEN'S MEETING.—At the meeting last night a large attendance was noticed, and a commendable interest was displayed in affairs of the department. Two new members were added to the roll, one of whom, Dr. Hogan, is counted upon to pull the engine alone. The bill of E. F. Reed as steward, was discussed at length and action deferred until after the report of a special committee had been received. The proposition of procuring ground for an engine house was spoken of and after settling other business matters the meeting adjourned.

POLICE COURT.—Quiet reins, naught is heard save the snore of Jones, the sobs of his Honor, and the shrill voice of Barlow as he hums "The Constable's Lament."

Air—"Ten Thousand Miles Away." And its Oh for a gay and a gallant vag. And hoodlums one or two; To help the business of this Court, And make a fee or two— To keep the peace of this here town, And hold this legal fort—I oh! We'll fine the stiff ten dollars all, Or pay the costs of court. Spoken—Now Judge hoop her up! [Chorus.]

The Enterprise was born eighteen years ago to-day. It has met with fortune and friends, and lived the most eventful life of any newspaper on the coast. Its daily issues during the past ten years were each an epitome of the world's doings. R. M. Daggett, an able and fearless journalist, has regained control of the paper, and in his hands it is capable of much good. We hope it may increase its fame as a public friend and teacher.

A CHINESE SLAYER.—At Lovelock's, on Saturday, a Chinaman was assaulted by a white man who claimed a debt from the Celestial. John cut the assailant across the abdomen, and fled. A cattle man who stood near the train struck the Chinaman across the head with his gad, but it had no effect. Ah John is still at liberty, and the wounded man died yesterday.

CONVALESCENT.—Len Savage, well known and liked by all old-timers in this region, is slowly groping his way back to health. Mr. Savage was quite ill some weeks since, but with characteristic energy refused to be nursed, and by incautious exposure nearly forfeited his life. We hope for his entire and speedy recovery.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—We acknowledge our obligations to Senator Jones for many courtesies. This morning we found a volume of the Congressional Directory fresh from Washington. It is complete in every department and while useful to the law maker is especially so to the scribbler.

MISSING.—Dick Hymers, well known to many of our citizens, has been missing since yesterday evening. His many friends will confer a favor by leaving news of his whereabouts at Chase's.

MASONIC OFFICERS.—At the last meeting of Reno Lodge, No. 13, F. & A. M., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. A. Richardson, W. M.; T. K. Hymers, S. W.; W. A. Walker, J. W.; B. B. Norton, Treasurer; Orris Ring, Secretary.
